CHRIS PRATT
VICE PRESIDENT ON TRADE

WELCOME TO OUR FESTIVE 2025 EDITION OF THIRST

As we approach the close of another eventful year, we're delighted to bring you the festive edition of Thirst for 2025. This is the perfect moment to extend our heartfelt thanks to you, our valued customers, on behalf of everyone at Carlsberg Britvic. Your continued partnership is important to us and we couldn't do it without you.

The festive season will soon be in full swing and we appreciate that this time of year is a critical one for business. Rewarding, exciting but also challenging. With higher footfall comes increased pressure and we are here to support you every step of the way where we can, helping you finish the end of the year on a high note.

Ideas to Maximise the Festive Season
This edition is packed with tips and inspiration designed to help your venue shine this Christmas. Inside, you'll find top tips for making the most of the biggest days in December, ideas for festive food and wine pairing and inspiration for drink options including the very festive mulled wine.

Packed with Deals
And because it's our festive edition, we've loaded it with fantastic deals and offers across our entire portfolio - beers, wines, spirits, and soft drinks.

We've also included great promotions from our trusted third-party suppliers, so take a moment to explore and get your orders in early. Planning ahead now means you'll be ready to make the most of this key trading period.

Looking Ahead to 2026
Let's make this festive season a memorable and profitable one. As we step into 2026, we've got innovative plans and initiatives across our brands that we are excited to share with you.

From all of us at Carlsberg Britvic, we wish you a joyful and prosperous festive season. Here's to finishing 2025 strong and starting the new year even stronger.

Chris Pratt, VP On trade

The festive countdown is on! By early November, twinkling lights and the sound of carols appear across the country, with venues leaning into the busiest time of the year. The run-up to Christmas and New Year carries a huge potential for venues to boost revenue, build memorable customer experiences and end 2025 on a high.

2025 LINE UP
NOVEMBER

ALL MONTH MOVEMBER

November is the month of the moustache! Movember raises funds and awareness for men's health causes, from prostate cancer to mental health. Since its beginnings, over £400m has been raised worldwide. Venues can get involved by hosting themed events, running charity nights or simply encouraging staff and customers to take part.

28

BLACK FRIDAY

Once a US shopping tradition, Black Friday is now a global event. In 2025 it falls on payday weekend, so expect bigger spending power. Many venues are embracing the day by offering one off dining discounts or drink deals.

BONFIRE NIGHT

"Remember, remember..." Guy Fawkes Night continues to light up the skies. Alongside fireworks, warming favourites like toffee apples, chilli bowls and mulled cider keep crowds happy.

Did you know? Firework night became an annual tradition in 1606, just one year after the Gunpowder Plot failed.

DECEMBER

ADVENT & START OF WINTER

December begins with a double milestone. The official start of Advent and the first day of winter. It's a perfect opportunity for venues to launch Christmas countdown promotions.

Fun fact: the first printed advent calendar dates back to 1908 in Germany!

MAD FRIDAY

The last working Friday before Christmas is always one of the busiest nights out of the year. It's also the night emergency services prepare for most. Venues can make the most of the buzz while ensuring safe, responsible celebrations and maybe even turn it into a "Festive Friday"

21
WINTER SOLSTICE

The shortest day of the year brings just under 8 hours of daylight in London. At Stonehenge, thousands gather to watch the sunrise, a tradition marking the 'rebirth of the sun.' Venues can embrace this moment with candlelit dinners, winter warmer specials or themed events celebrating the return of longer days.

24
CHRISTMAS EVE

A day filled with last-minute shopping, wrapping presents, and preparing for the big day. Many families enjoy a festive drink or meal out with pubs buzzing in the evening.

25

CHRISTMAS DAY

Christmas Day is all about family, food and traditions. Around 15% of UK households now eat out rather than cook at home. Top reasons include less stress, better food and simply wanting to make the day feel more special. A golden opportunity for venues offering a festive feast!

26

BOXING DAY

Traditionally a day for leftovers, Boxing Day has become one of the UK's biggest sporting days, with football and horse racing fixtures drawing crowds. It's also a huge retail sales day. Offering a relaxed brunch or sports-screening menu can attract customers looking to extend the celebrations.

31

NEW YEAR'S EVE

The grand finale of the year falls on a midweek night in 2025. People will celebrate in countless ways from house parties to big nights out and fireworks displays. For venues, this is the perfect chance to make the evening truly memorable. Whether it's a themed party, live entertainment or a midnight toast, creating a sense of occasion can set your place apart from the rest. Guests want that "wow" moment to remember and to post about as they step into 2026.

CHRISTMAS EVE

Christmas Eve is one of the most sociable days of the year. Shoppers are finishing their last-minute dashes, workers are leaving the office early and families are looking for a festive meal or drink together before the big day.

How to make it work for your venue:

ATMOSPHERE IS EVERYTHING

Think warm lighting, cracking playlists of festive classics, mulled cider bubbling on the bar and indulgent menus with a festive feel.

EARLY DOORS TRADE

Families and workers may head out in the afternoon or early evening, so make sure you're staffed and ready before the typical evening rush. A Christmas Eve lunch or afternoon menu can capture this.

FESTIVE RITUALS

People love traditions. Promote Christmas jumper nights, charity raffles, or a "Carols and Cocktails" session. In some communities, a late-night singalong is a draw in itself.

DRINKS PACKAGES

Offer pre-booked tables with bottles of prosecco, festive cocktails, or even Christmas Eve sharers to make it easy for groups.

OPERATIONAL TIP

Expect a spike in demand between 4pm–8pm and tapering off after midnight as families head home to prepare for Christmas morning. Plan your staffing needs around this.

NEW YEAR'S EVE

New Year's Eve is the crown jewel of festive trading. People are ready to spend more, go bigger, and create lasting memories. Whether it's a glamorous dinner, a ticketed party or a relaxed pub countdown, the key is to stand out in a crowded market.

How to make it work for your venue:

SELL THE EXPERIENCE

It's not just about a table or entry, it's about the night. Bundle tickets with food, drinks, entertainment, or extras like a midnight toast.

THEMED NIGHTS WIN

Gatsby glamour, masquerade balls, ski-lodge parties, or retro throwbacks all add theatre. Themed décor, cocktail and dress codes make the night feel special.

TICKETING CAN REALLY HELP WHERE FEASIBLE

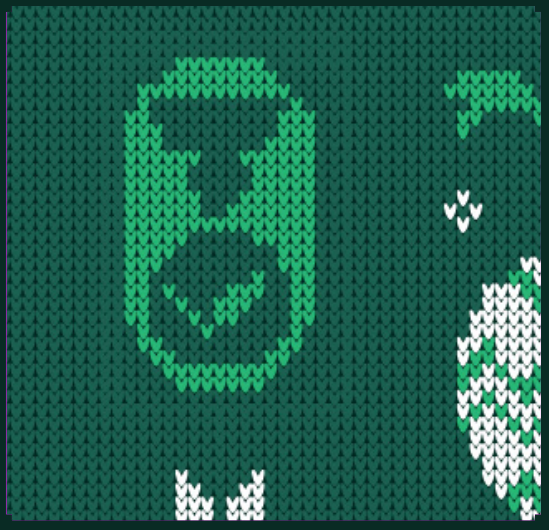
Pre-sell where possible. This gives you guaranteed revenue, helps with stock planning, and builds hype.

ENTERTAINMENT MATTERS

From DJs to live bands to karaoke countdowns, customers want more than just background music. Think about what fits your venue and customer.

THE COUNTDOWN MOMENT

Plan something big for midnight: balloon drops, free prosecco shots, sparklers or fireworks on screens. Guests will remember that moment and share it online.



MULLED

WINE MASTERCLASS

Warming Up Your Winter 2025

OFFERS APPLY TO DELIVERIES FROM 1ST NOVEMBER - 5TH JANUARY, UNLESS OTHERWISE STATED

Few drinks capture the magic of the festive season quite like mulled wine. From the first waft of cinnamon and cloves to the warm glow it brings on a chilly evening, it's a seasonal classic that customers seek out every year.

For bars, pubs and restaurants, it's an atmosphere-builder, a margin-friendly menu item and also can be made in batches for convenience.

A short history of mulled wine

Roman roots

The earliest records of spiced, warmed wine date back to 2nd-century Rome. Soldiers heated wine with spices as they travelled across Europe, spreading the tradition.

Medieval medicine

In the Middle Ages, mulled wine (often called "hippocras") was believed to aid digestion and ward off illness. Spices like cinnamon and cloves were prized for their health benefits.

Victorian popularity

Charles Dickens helped cement mulled wine in British Christmas tradition by mentioning it in A Christmas Carol. From then on, it became synonymous with festive cheer.

And now

Mulled wine is served worldwide during winter festivals from German Christmas markets (Glühwein) to Nordic versions (Glögg) with raisins and almonds.

Mulled win

For ultimate convenience: Pre-mixed mulled wine

Simply heat and garnish with slices of fruits and cinnamon sticks for visual effect.

Make your own mulled wine

This is a straightforward recipe to make your own mulled wine with minimal fuss.

Ingredients

1 bottle of red wine (something fruity, like a Merlot or Shiraz)

2 cinnamon sticks

4-5 whole cloves

2 star anise

2-3 tablespoons sugar or honey

1 orange, sliced

1 lemon, sliced

50ml brandy (optional)

1-2 bay leaves (optional)

Instructions

Pour the bottle of wine into a large saucepan.

Add the cinnamon sticks, cloves, star anise, and sugar/honey.

Toss in the sliced orange and lemon.

Heat gently on low, making sure not to boil the wine (keep it below simmering point).

Let the spices steep for 10-15 minutes.

Taste for sweetness and add more sugar if needed. If you want an extra kick, add the brandy at this stage.

Strain and serve warm.

e, your way

Try a twist on the classic

White mulled wine

Swap red for dry white wine, add pear slices, vanilla, and cardamom.

Mulled cider

Use still cider with apple slices, cloves, and ginger for a twist.

Mulled non-alcoholic style

Warm apple juice with cranberries, cinnamon, and star anise for a non-alcoholic option that's just as festive.

Luxury upgrade

Add a splash of sloe gin, port, or brandy for extra depth.

Mulled wine fun facts

In Germany, it's illegal to sell Glühwein that isn't made with wine. Mulled punch without alcohol must be labelled differently.

The world's largest mulled wine glass was created in France in 2016 and held over 30 litres!

In Victorian Britain, claret (a Bordeaux red) was the wine of choice for mulling.

Cinnamon, cloves, and nutmeg were once so valuable they were traded along the Silk Road and mostly reserved for royalty or wealthy households.

This dry white wine has a lush juicy texture and shows the classic Viognier floral notes

A light-bodied, crisp dry white wine that shows pronounced cut grass and elderflower aromas

This Chardonnay/ Sauvignon blend has a deep gold colour, is broad and intense on the nose and shows ripe fruit: honeydew melon and candied peel in particular. Mid-full bodied and dry with a touch of astringency and a long finish.

A youthful and intense red wine that is mid to full-bodied on the palate with plenty of dark berry fruit, spice and oak

A full-bodied and concentrated red wine with yielding tannins and generous fruit
